So a well-considered choice of fit and functionality is extra important in order to avoid a painful butt... or worse. Going for maximum biking convenience? Then choose biking pants with suspenders since this is by far the most comfortable for the body. But there are plenty of options in addition to this. An antibacterial pad that works to absorb odours? Glasses

Completely missing the decisive démarrage in a race because of poor visibility. Now that's a pity. But riding right past the proper exit or - even worse - not seeing a barrier in the road due to poor visibility? And with an injury as a result? Now that's really a shame! That's why AGU has such a fine range of sports glasses: so your vision is always well-focused. And since you never sit still on the bike, we're always on the go, too. Looking for new functional, improved lenses and light, innovative materials. With just one single objective: optimum visibility for the cyclist. For you.

Sportsglasses

Lenses

The basic lenses are made of polycarbonate and have a high degree of scratch resistance. All glasses are made with UV 400 lenses for optimum protection of the eyes from harmful UV light.

The coloured lenses are for all weather conditions:

- ▶ Smoke Smoke-coloured lenses increase contrast in foggy and sunny conditions.
- ▶ Orange in the lens provides more contrast and is the most efficient colour for fog.
- ▶ Transparent lenses are suitable for cloudy or dark days.

Smoke flash lenses

Coated lenses for optimum filtering of light. These make visibility sharper and with more contrast.

Cromotec lenses

Cromotec lenses responds to light intensity: they change colour quickly from nearly transparent to dark. This way, your eyes are always optimally against visible and invisible light, in both cloudy and sunny weather.

NXT® Cromotec lenses

NXT® lenses are unbreakable, scratch resistant and very light. Furthermore, they have excellent optical qualities and are relatively insensitive to chemicals. NXT® is used in helicopter cockpits and police protective shields, among other things.

The lenses also respond to light intensity: they change colour quickly from nearly transparent to dark.

Material

Anglefit II

Both the angle of the lenses and the temples can be adjusted easily for a perfect fit.

Hypo-allergenic

High-quality materials are used in AGU glasses. The material is used in the nose pads and in the temples. Hypo-allergenic means that the product is unlikely to cause an allergic reaction in the wearer.

Temples

Made of skin-friendly, anti-allergenic material. The temples can be adjusted on a number of models (Misaki, Xceptor, Inceptor, Hull, Ribble).

Nose pads

Keep the glasses in the proper position on the nose; keep them there without pressure points. The nose bridge is adjustable on a number of models (Taroka, Misaki, Xceptor, Inceptor, Skell, Nidd, Hull, Ribble). Made of skin-friendly, anti-allergenic material.

Frame

Grilamid TR 90

Grilamid TR 90 is a type of polyamide that is tremendously strong, flexible and light. This material can be described as "plastic with a memory", allowing the glasses to return to their original form by themselves.

RX Adapter

This lens adapter allows you to give your sport glasses a prescription. The adapter is attached to the inside of the glasses and the RX lenses click in precisely behind the existing glasses.

Helmets

Helmet = the heart of the matter. The use of safe, lightweight bicycle helmets among top riders has increased in a very short time to 100%. It's logical: anyone who has seen a bad accident knows that a helmet can make the difference between life and death. In categories below the the professionals, people sometimes take the use of helmets less seriously. But the use of advanced bike helmets is advancing on all fronts, in part due to such campaigns as "Use your head, put on your helmet". The increased interest in helmets also has to do with image. Past excuses such as "too hot" (today's helmets have good ventilation), "heavy" (you can barely feel lightweight AGU helmets on your head) are ridiculously passé: every excuse for not wearing a helmet can be countered with 10 far better reasons to do so.

In-mold

A process in which the hard outer layer of the helmet is bonded to the EPS inner layer. In this bonding, in-mold helmets are reinforced at crucial points. The helmets are lightweight and have space for more ventilation.

Keylock

The straps of the helmet are easy to adjust. By turning the Keylock 90°, the straps are "locked".

Camlock

The straps of the helmets are quickly and easily adjusted and opened with a Camlock. The straps are "locked" upon closure.

Direct-dial

With this system, the inner ring is adjusted to the proper head size with a simple turn of the wrist.

Direct-dial II

This lightweight system allows adjustment of the inner ring to the proper head size with a simple turn of the wrist.

Detox

This is a sliding system that adjusts the inner ring easily to the proper head size.

Detox II

This system uses two straps to adjust the inner ring easily to the proper head size.

Redapt

Light weight adjustment system: two straps are used to adjust the inner ring precisely to the proper head size.

Secco

Is cycling necessarily a battle against the elements? Not at all. Secco makes cycling and outdoor sports a romp with the elements! The lightweight, breathable, 100% waterproof Secco family is the bread and butter in AGU's sporty line: a tested and highly valued concept for years. Made by and for cycling enthusiasts, this line was developed for performance: Secco combines speed, comfort, fashion and functionality in a single jacket. Are you a mountain biker, a fanatic climber, the pace car on the flats or the pounding slipstreamer in your Sunday cycling group? Secco won't disappoint you under any circumstances: this line is the favourite among top cyclists, semi-pros and aficionados. The Secco collection has just one disadvantage: some days you'll simply fly and on other days you'll be a bit slower. But you can never again blame your breathable Secco.

PORAY 5000

Breathable AGU Outer Wear is 100% windproof and waterproof thanks to its special breathable Poray coating developed by AGU. Poray 5000, still patented by AGU, has microscopically small pores that allow moisture and condensation from sweat to move to the outside. Rain can't get inside since water droplets - raindrops, then, as well - have a much larger structure. The microporous Poray 5000 coating can withstand a water column of 5000 mm. Its water vapour permeability is 5.5 L/m² per 24 hours. Ideal for athletic bikers, biking commuters and walkers.

Overshoes & accessories

They are just possibly the cyclist's most cursed part of the body: toes. In the bitter cold, it's not easy to keep extremities warm, but overshoes from AGU help considerably. Going biking in temperatures below 5°? Then overshoes are truly essential. And once you've chosen neoprene overshoes, your feet will suddenly be a power plant. Make sure that the overshoes are suitable for your pedal system. AGU overshoes are multifunctional and can also be used for in-line skates and skates.

Underwear

What do coffee and functional underwear have to do with each other? A lot. At least when it comes to the AGU Secco line. Breathable AGU clothing naturally wicks moisture away while your body stays warm, but the technology behind it is both interesting and pioneering. You see, the Secco line is made from coffee residues that have been turned into yarn. Innovative S'Cafe Polyester has two great advantages: the coffee residue functions terrifically for the absorption of moisture and odour (without having your shirt smell like coffee) and it's a very environmentally friendly solution. This might not make you bike any faster, but if you're enjoying a cup of coffee with your mates after a day of cycling, you'll notice that your cuppa is extra delicious.

Underwear

Our underwear keeps you warm and dry while you're sweating heavily. Both in the winter and in the summer. And, quite practical: all the back panels on the undershirts are extended so that you stay warm even when bent over your handlebars.

With the triple-layer system you benefit fully from the moisture regulating features of your clothes. You create the perfect body climate. Your skin stays dry and you hold the ideal body temperature for optimum performance. Every layer is an important chain in the triple layer system in every season.

Do you want to be comfortable on your bike? Then keep to AGU's 3-layer system.

1 - Underwear

Start by putting on AGU's breathable (Secco) undergarments.

2 - Put on a long sleeve shirt over this.

AGU shirts have breathable properties and feel comfortable and warm.

3 - Jackets/Bodywarmer

The AGU jackets are often windproof and have the breathable capacity to keep you dry and carefree in all kinds of winter scenery.
